started the waters of the harbor freezing fast. This quick freeze furnished some spectacular visual effects as the vapor rising from the waters caught the sun's rays and looked like hot smoke. The cover photos taken at Mattapoisett Wharf show the "smoke". Near the entrance to the Eel Pond the two swans churned majestically through the water that was freezing around them.

MEETING ON SRPEDD

Mattapoisett's Board of Selectmen met with Mr. Alfred McNiff of the Massachusetts Department of Community Affairs to discuss the pros and cons of remaining part of the Southeastern Regional Planning and Economic Development District. The primary concern of the Selectmen was the effect of termination of membership on State and Federal aid. Mr. McNiff advised that the town would no longer be eligible for the 10% bonus on these programs. The Federal programs depend on President Nixon's action on E.D.A. Many Federal programs are now without funds because they have been impounded. Out of EDD, small towns may have a harder time obtaining available Federal funds because they have no professional working full time to obtain these funds according to McNiff. Mr. McNiff is very concerned that should Mattapoisett terminate membership, other towns might well follow suit and destroy the organization. The cities and towns were placed in the organization by act of the Legislature which made membership mandatory for a period of time. As of now, Mattapoisett's membership is paid up until July 1st. If the town meeting votes to terminate membership (2/3 vote required), Mr. McNiff said the town will still be forced to pay dues to July 1, 1975. There is now legislation pending in the General Court to require mandatory membership to 1976. If the town does not get out before that is passed then it is held in until then .

It has been stored in the Center School basement rooms now needed by the school. The Selectmen wrote that returning all of the equipment would leave the town without emergency equipment for use in case of a disaster. They would like to retain important parts of the hospital equipment to have for use in an emergency.

The Board of Selectmen has advised the Board of Health in writing that the town health equipment is in the District Nurse's custody and request that the Board of Health dispose of all obsolete or damaged equipment and then recommend a suitable storage area for the rest.

CONDOLENCES

The Board of Selectmen has written Mrs. John W. Meehan to express sincere regret at Mr. Meehan's untimely death. They wrote in part; "as you know, Jack unselfishly devoted a great deal of time and effort to the Town's Sports and Youth Programs over the last several years. He will be sorely missed by everyone in town and particularly by its younger citizens who had received so many important benefits through Jack's interest and devotion to their welfare."

Jack Meehan's Legacy

Editorial - D.C.J.

The untimely loss of Jack Meehan is one that joins the generations in gratitude for a man who did volunteer. Jack gave so generously of himself for the benefit of youngsters that he is honored and mourned by a large group of boys who grew up knowing that this man cared deeply enough for them to spend himself for their enjoyment and development in sports. It was a two-way street. Jack had the satisfaction of seeing these young athletes develop because of his effort and knew that they followed him because they wanted to please him and to ultimately be a man of his caliber.

Sportsmanship is a preparation for life, perhaps more valuable than any other activity. It is competition under the control of self-discipline. It is a striving for excellence - to bring out the best that the individual has. It takes a special kind of leadership to provide the inspiration, the self-sacrifice, and project the image that boys want to grow to.

Jack was a most valued man in this community because he had these qualities. It matters most "how you play the game". This intangible can't be explained. It has to be demonstrated by example. Jack Meehan gave Mattapoisett boys an example to follow on their way to manhood. They knew it. He knew it. Perhaps the ultimate satisfaction is the certain knowledge that a new generation wants to follow in your footsteps.

Mattapoisett sports have been the richer because of the efforts of men who spend their time with boys to show them the way to succeed and the way to come back from defeat. Jack will always have an influence on the lives of the boys he showed how to play the game. They will pass on that influence to their own sons. What finer honor could any man achieve.

Letter to Voters

M. ROSS NOT TO RUN FOR SCHOOL COMM.

During the nine years I have served on the Mattapoisett School Committee there have been many changes affecting our schools. For six of these years I also served on the school committee of the Old Rochester Regional High School. The work has demanded a great deal of time, but it has been a very interesting and enlightening experience. I wish that it were possible for every taxpayer to serve on the school committee long enough to get an appreciation of the many problems and complexities that are encountered. When my present term expires I do not intend to run for re-election. I strongly urge all interested people to run for this job. If you are unhappy with the way the schools are managed it is especially appropriate that you should seek this office.

Of course the biggest problem at present is the spiralling increase in the school budget each year. This is due largely to the inflation of the dollar which appears to go on and on. Whoever gets elected to the post, we should remember the school committee has no way of controlling inflation, and we must expect the budget to continue to increase even with the best of management.

I offer the voters of Mattapoisett my thanks for allowing me to serve these nine years. I feel that I have learned a great deal through serving.

ROCHESTER IN CRYSTAL

The snowstorm apparently turned to freezing rain in Rochester and coated trees, grass and shrubbery with glasslike ice. In the sun, these tiny crystals, like the prisms they are, sparkled with all the fire of diamonds. The trees were afire with shimmering colors as they sparked red, blue green flickering in the brilliant sunlight. Perhaps the most beautiful display of the winter, this storm turned the Rochester countryside into a wonderland.

Rochester Historical Society

The members of the Rochester Historical Society gathered at the BISBEE HOMESTEAD, home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Underhill, for their annual dinner and installation of officers. Each member contributed his specialty, and a delicious dinner was enjoyed.

At the informal meeting afterwards, the group discussed the past year's successes and problems, and plans for the new year. Letters in response to the article in "Yankee" magazine were read in part, and members found distant relatives and former occupants of their homes.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walker on January 30th at 8:00. As always, anyone who is interested in Rochester, past or present, or just in good company, is invited to attend. A gift to the society, which a reader of "Yankee" spoke about, and which may prove to be of infinite value, will be on display.

After two years of trying to find a suitable piece of land centrally located, four acres or better, which would be accepted by the State, we located such a piece and the owner agreed to put it on the market. This parcel was accepted by the State.

We then went back to the owner who then decided he did not want to part with his land, and this put us back where we started from, as the Board is against taking anyone's land by eminent domain, for this purpose.

We advertised again for four weeks and finally came up again with another parcel of land which is now before the State board for approval.

Since then, we have been approached with another parcel of land which, in my opinion, would be ideal and as soon as the owner comes forward with the map of location and dimensions, this too will be forwarded to the State Board.

We have tentative plans for the project. The apartments are beautiful, very similar to the latest ones built in Fairhaven.

The rents are reasonable. The whole project will be well landscaped and no pets will be allowed. There will be a central

P-TC Discussion

SPECIAL NEEDS PROGRAM

On Wednesday, January 16, at 8:00 P.M. at Old Hammondtown School the Mattapoisett Parent-Teachers Club will sponsor a meeting to discuss the ramifications of the Special Needs Programs being implemented in our schools. These programs have come into existence with the enactment of Chapter 766 in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. This addition to our laws simply says that our schools must provide an appropriate educational program for ALL children. Dr. William Quinlan, Director of the Special Needs Program for Mattapoisett, Marion, Rochester, Fairhaven and Acushnet, will explain exactly what Chapter 766 entails and will answer any questions parents may have. This meeting should be of interest to all parents, and the P.T.C. encourages their attendance.

In an effort to raise funds for their treasury, the P.T.C. will sell coffee and dessert.

Mothers March, Jan. 27

MOTHERS MARCH THIS MONTH

"Medical authorities estimate that improved maternal and child care could have saved 14,000 infants last year," reports Mrs. Wayne Knight, chairman of the Mattapoisett Mothers March against birth defects.

Contributions to the Mothers March, the annual January appeal held this year on Sunday, January 27th, will help support March of Dimes programs in perinatal medicine.

"Recognizable gains in this field will take time," Mrs. Knight says, "but the beginnings are underway. And, as in any other endeavor, public support is essential. It's easy to take health for granted, unless you are among some quarter of a million infants stricken with birth defects every year in the United States. Then you are denied this assurance.

Mrs. Knight urges community concern for the once-a-year neighborhood drive on behalf of our children's health. Joining in the Mothers March puts your personal stamp of approval on the efforts of scientists, physicians and health professionals who are confronting this challenge to our nation's well-being, according to Mrs. Knight.

Federation Scholarships

The Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs is offering a number of scholarships to high school seniors again this year. There are scholarships in music, art, and one-half tuition sponsored scholarships at a number of schools including junior colleges and art institutes. College students who are Massachusetts residents may apply for a scholarship for study abroad. In addition, scholarships will be given for graduate study in such fields as drama, speech therapy, and literature and poetry.

Any student living in Rochester may apply to Mrs. Gerard Charest, Jr., education chairman, at 763-2842. The deadline for applying is March 1st.

Concert Tickets

The number of requests for tickets for the Tri-County Music Association's March 3rd concert with Armando Ghitalla, Boston Symphony's first trumpeter as soloist, has prompted the board of directors to place single concert tickets on sale in advance at the Symphony Shop, Mattapoisett, and the Bookstall in Marion. The concert will be at 3 P.M. at the Old Rochester Regional High School.

Letter to The Editor

Are you saving energy in your home? Despite the editorial comment on the glories of Daylight Saving Time imposed upon us by the Federal Government, most homeowners know very well that not one kilowatt of energy is being saved by this measure. Then what is its purpose? Could it be to further condition the American mind to continually accept, without any outcry, more and more Government controls so as to enable President Nixon to "BUILD A NEW INTERNATIONAL ORDER." TRUSTEES' MEETING HELD

Richard H. Carpenter, president of the Fairhaven Savings Bank, announced that the Trustees of the Bank at their regular quarterly meeting, held Monday, January 7, approved the following promotions:

New Senior Officers are Edmund S. Burt of Fairhaven, Personnel and Operations Officer; Malcolm Roach of South Dartmouth, Loan Officer.

Mr. Burt came to the bank in 1971, having worked previously for two New Bedford banking institutions. Under the bank's new table of organization Mr. Burt will have charge of all personnel, including all fringe benefit programs and operations of the teller line and its related activities.

Mr. Roach was former manager of the Center Street Branch Bank and will be transferred to the main office where he will assist Mr. George R. Graves, vice president, for consumer loans. Mr. Roach came to the bank in 1969.

Additional appointments made were:

Mrs. Cynthia Mello, Auditor. She will have charge of the Auditing Department and its related functions; Mrs. Mabel Filipek, Assistant Loan Officer, will be in charge of the Loan Service Department; Mr. William Dumas, Mr. Louis Adam and Mr. Ross Upton were promoted to Assistant Loan Officers. Mr. Upton, a recent S.M.U. graduate, will be in charge of the Center Street Branch Bank.

The President reported deposits had started to increase gradually since the first of November and that they had increased almost $1,000,000.00 in the past two months, making total deposits now over $92,000,000.00.

Funds for mortgage loans on single family homes in the area are now available.

To help the bank's customers with heat and energy related problems, an increase of over $112,000.00 worth of home improvement loans were granted in the past three months. Home improvement loans now amount to almost $1,300,000.00.

In other action the directors also voted to operate a Summer Job Education Program during the summer of 1974. Executive Vice Presidnet John V. Tieso explained that this program will allow, in the first year, over 50 teenagers to have summer work under a combined work and business education program. Current members of the J.A. program will have the first opportunity to apply for this program and additional vacancies will be filled after the close of school in June. The program is scheduled to get under way after the 1st of July.

Junior Achievement is a national economic educational program where teenagers in high school have the opportunity to learn firsthand how a business operates. This year in New Bedford nearly 400 area teenagers are organized into 18 of these miniature corporations.

Rail Service Urged

STUDDS URGES AMTRAK TO REOPEN RAIL LINKS TO CAPE COD FROM BOSTON & N.Y.

WASHINGTON, D.C., JANUARY 10 -- Rep. Gerry E. Studds, D-Mass., today urged Amtrak to investigate and "give serious consideration to restoring service to Cape Cod from New York City and Boston as soon as possible."

Studds, in a letter to Roger Lewis, President of Amtrak, cited Amtrak's authority under a 1970 law to expand its service, and a provision of the newly-enacted Amtrak Improvement Act of 1973 "which requires Amtrak to initiate at least one new experimental route each year.

"I can think of no better passenger routes to revive than routes linking Boston and New York with Cape Cod " Studds added.

"During this time of gasoline shortage," Studds continued, "a Cape Cod passenger rail service could be the answer to this area's endangered tourist-based economy."

The Studds letter asked Amtrak to provide the 12th District Congressman with a report "at an early date as to whether your planning staff is considering restoration of passenger train service to Cape Cod, and what you consider the potential market to be for each route.

"I realize," the Studds letter continued, "that substantial work might have to be done to upgrade the deteriorated track on Cape Cod itself, and would appreciate any cost estimates you could give me for that work."

In separate letters to Senators Edward M. Kennedy and Edward W. Brooke, Governor Francis W. Sargent, Boston Mayor Kevin White and Alan A. Altshuler, Secretary of Transportation for the Commonwealth, Studds asked for support for his proposal to Amtrak.

Studds said the Penn Central used to operate a New York to Cape Cod passenger train during the summer months and added, "although I have not seen the actual figures, I am advised that this train ran at a profit.

"The Penn Central has indicated its willingness to investigate reopening this service, but this might require substantial subsidy and continuing support payments from the state and local governments.

"If Amtrak can be persuaded to reopen this service to Cape Cod, the federal government would finance its operation," Studds added.

"But any way we can restore this rail link would be a great benefit to the traveling public and to Cape Cod and the Islands."

a scholarship program to determine and honor the state's outstanding high school senior girls of 1974, will be held at West Yarmouth on Friday, January 25th, with the finals scheduled for Saturday, January 26th.

Massachusetts' chairman, Robert Frazel, said local Junior Miss Pageants throughout the state determine the participants in the state competition, and the January 26th winner will represent Massachusetts in the Junior Miss national finals at Mobile, Alabama in May.

The state finals will be held in the Mattacheese Middle School Auditorium at West Yarmouth, just east of Hyannis.

Reigning Massachusetts' Junior Miss is Swea Nightingale of Monument Beach.

The Junior Miss program is not a beauty pageant, but seeks to recognize, reward and encourage excellence in young people by presenting college scholarships and other awards to outstanding high school senior girls.

This year approximately $700,000 in college scholarships and other awards will be offered to Junior Miss participants on the local, state and national levels.

Judging at all levels is on the basis of scholastic achievement, youth fitness, poise and appearance, creative and performing arts, perception, clarity of expression and contributions to community and family.
